III. ADJECTIVE POSITION and FUNCTION (see also under Participles, p. 10f.)

The definite article and its associated noun form a "sense unit." Position refers to the spatial relation of a modifying word or phrase to this "sense unit," and is commonly indicated by the location of the definite article. Position in turn determines this word or phrase's function in its context, i.e. shows how it functions to "describe" its associated noun or pronoun. Compare: τῇ χάριτι τῇ τξῦ ἑνὸς ἄνθρωποι’ I. X., "the grace [which is] from the one person Jesus Christ." Rom 5:15; or common examples like τὰ τῆς γῆς, "the things of earth."

A. Attributive Position

Functions to identify or describe

1. Adjective Function

   KEY: Adjective "follows" definite article; i.e. is inside sense unit

   Example:

   ὁ μαθητῆς ὁ πιστός
   OR  ὁ πιστὸς μαθητῆς
   The faithful disciple

2. Substantive (noun) Function

   KEY: adjective does not agree with noun or pronoun and follows the definite article **

   Example:
   ὁ πιστός, οἱ πιστοί, τὰ πιστά
   The faithful one; the faithful ones; the faithful things

B. Predicate Position

Functions to make verbal or adverbial Assertion about noun or pronoun

1. as Predicate Adjective

   Example:

   ὁ μαθητῆς πιστός
   OR  πιστὸς ὁ μαθητῆς
   The disciple is faithful

2. as Adverbial idea, telling where, when, how, why, under what circumstances, etc.

   Example:

   ὁ μαθητῆς πιστός ἀκούει
   The disciple listens faithfully, etc.
Adam was fashioned first (1 Tim 2:11)
And they stopped, looking sad (Lk 24:17)

 NOTE:  When the noun has no definite article, the reader will have to decide about attributive or predicate position on the basis of the best sense in the context. Note, however, that Pronouns (personal, demonstrative, etc.) normally function as definite, i.e. as if they have a definite article before them. Example: In the phrase ἡμεῖς πιστῶι, the πιστῶ would normally be construed as predicate: "we are faithful"

 VERB - INDICATIVE:  Indicative is used to express fact / reality

I.  BASIC VERB STRUCTURE  (for indicative and all verb forms)

III.  THEME VOWEL  - o / ε

The theme vowel functions primarily as a syllable "connector" or "link" to join endings to the stem and/or tense code when present. When the stem or tense code already contains a vowel (e.g. as in μι verbs or in the tense code σα) the theme vowel usually is missing. It varies regularly between an -ο- or -ε- sound, sometimes as a diphthong (e.g. -ου-). Lengthening of the theme vowel ( ω / η ) is also used as the sign of subjunctive mood.
IV. TENSE CODES  (If no tense code, go to "V. STEM" below)

NOTES: for Future and Aorist,
1. $\psi / \psi \alpha = \pi \sigma / \pi \sigma \alpha$; $\xi / \xi \alpha = k \sigma / k \sigma \alpha$, etc.
2. After Liquid/Nasal stems ($\lambda$, $\rho$, $\mu$, $\nu$): the $\sigma$ of the future or aorist code elides leaving only a contracted theme vowel in future and $-\alpha$ in the aorist: Examples:
   Future: $\mu e n o u s i$; Aorist: $\epsilon m e i n a n$
3. For 2nd Aorist, see "V. STEM" below

- $\sigma$ = Future tense *
- $\sigma \alpha$ = Aorist tense *
- $\kappa \alpha / \alpha$ = Perfect tense  Active voice only; Mid & Pass use no tense code or theme vowel
- $\kappa e i / e i$ = PluPerfect  See note for Perfect
- $\theta \eta / \eta$ = Aorist Passive  In some forms, e.g. participle, shortened to $\theta e / \epsilon$
- $\theta \eta \sigma / \eta \sigma$ = Future Passive

V. STEM  When a tense code is present, the particular STEM is important only for vocabulary.

When a tense code is not present, the following tense information can be noted:
1. Same stem as first principal part (dictionary stem)  Linear stem (Present / Imperfect)
2. Different (modified) stem  Aorist tense ("2nd aorist")

VI. AUGMENT  A lengthening of the verb stem in Secondary (i.e. Past) tenses & thus only in Indicative mood forms

For verbs beginning with:
- a. Consonant = $\varepsilon$-
- b. Vowel = lengthened initial vowel

[ Examples: $\pi e m p w$ $\rightarrow \epsilon p e m p \sigma$
$\epsilon r x o m a i$ $\rightarrow \eta r x o m e n$

VII. REDUPLICATION  Prefix sign for Perfect and PluPerfect forms

Its Form varies: initial consonant doubled with $\varepsilon$; initial vowel lengthened; doubling within stem, etc.

$\pi s t e o w$ $\rightarrow$ $\pi e p i s t e u k a$ $\lambda a m b a n w$ $\rightarrow$ $\epsilon l i p a$
$\alpha k o w$ $\rightarrow$ $\alpha k i k o a$

(One might say, reduplication is whatever prefix is on the front of a perfect verb)

VIII. PRINCIPAL PARTS

Complete:
- $\sigma \zeta o w$
- $\sigma \sigma w$
- $\epsilon s o s a$
- $\sigma e s o k a$
- $\sigma e s o s m a i$
- $\epsilon s o \theta e n$

Deponent:
- $g i n o m a i$
- $g e n \eta s o m a i$
- $\epsilon g e n \eta m e n$
- $g e \gamma o n a$
- $g e \gamma e n \eta m a i$
- $\epsilon g e n \eta \theta e n$

Used for:

XI. VOICE Refers to relationship of the Subject to the Verbal Action

A. Active (action) • the subject acts, does something:
"The disciple sees the Lord."

B. Passive (passion) • the subject suffers, is acted upon by someone, etc.
"The disciple is seen by the Lord."

C. Middle • No direct equivalent in English:

1. Deponent verbs: Main use of Middle in NT Greek is for verbs that have lost or do not have active forms. Such verbs are written middle in form, but are translated active:
   - ἐρχομαι "I come," "I am coming"
   - θεάμαι "I see," "I am seeing"

2. Special Meanings: a number of verbs have a special meaning in the middle voice different from the active:
   - ἀρχω "I rule," "I am ruling"
   - ἀρχομαι "I begin," "I am beginning"

3. True Middle: (i.e. "in between" active and passive) The subject both acts and receives, is more closely personally involved in the end or object of the action. Frequently translated by a reflexive pronoun or with a "causative" sense in English:
   - ἐνίψαντω "they washed themselves, had themselves washed"

Note: This Classical sense of Middle Voice is rare in NT or Koine Greek, where Middle is mainly used for Deponent verbs. When "complete" verbs (e.g. πιστεύω) have endings that may be either Middle or Passive, a helpful "rule of thumb" is to regard the endings as Passive unless this makes nonsense in the context.
XII. TENSE ASPECT
Tense calls attention to the "type of action" being described in the context. The primary sense of the Tense of the Greek verb is of the type, quality, or character of the action rather than the particular time when it occurs. Time reference, though present in the Indicative, is secondary and essentially absent in other moods. There are three basic types of action:

- linear/motion
- aoristic/snapshot/whole
- perfect/completed

Examples below illustrate these aspects appropriate to specific contexts:

A. Present

1. repeated action:
   - ἕκαστος τὸ ἴδιον δεῖπνον προλαμβάνει
     Each person keeps taking their own supper first. (1 Cor. 11.21)

2. continuing action:
   - μὴ φοβοῦ μόνον πίστευε
     Do not continue to fear, only keep on believing. (Mk 5.36)

3. action in progress:
   - Κύριε σῶσόν ἡμᾶς ἀπὸ λύματος
     Lord, save (us), we are perishing. (Mt 8.25)
   - αἱ λαμπάδες ἡμῶν σβέννυνται
     Our lamps are going out. (Mt 25.8)

4. customary or general truth (maxims/proverbs):
   - πᾶν δένδρον ἀγαθὸν καρπὸς καλὰς ποιεῖ
     Every good tree produces good fruit. (Mt 7.17)
   - τὸ πνεῦμα ἀπὸ θέλει πνεῖ
     The wind blows where it wishes (Jn 3.8)

5. attempted action:
   - διὰ ποίνων αὐτῶν ἔργων ἐμὲ λιθάζετε;
     Because of which deed are you trying to stone me? (Jn 10.32)

6. futuristic:
   - ἔρχεται ὁ ἰσχυρότερός μου ὀπίσω μου
     After me is coming one who is stronger than I (Mk 1.7)
   - ὁ υἱὸς τοῦ ἀνθρώπου παραδίδεται
     The son of man will be handed over (Mk 9.31, cf. Mk 10.33)

7. historical present (narrative past):
   - καὶ ὀψίας γενομένης ἔρχεται μετὰ τῶν δώδεκα
     And when it was evening he came with the twelve (Mk 14.17)

8. action beginning in past and continuing into the present:
   - ἀπ’ ἀρχῆς μετ’ ἐμοῦ ἐστε
From the beginning you have been with me (Jn 15.27)

B. Imperfect 1. repeated action:

- τὰς πρωτοκλισίας ἔξελέγοντο
  They kept choosing (one after one) the first couches (Lk 14.7)

- καὶ ἔξελέγοντο πρὸς αὐτὸν καὶ ἔλεγχον, χαίρε
  And they kept coming up to him and saying, hail (Jn 19.3)

2. continuing action:

- καὶ οὐδὲν εἶπαν· ἐφξβξῦντξ γάρ
  And they said nothing to anybody, for they continued in fear (Mk 16.8)

- καὶ ἠπίστξυν αὐταῖς
  And they continued to disbelieve them (Lk 24.11)

3. action in progress:

- πολλοὶ πλούσιοι ἔβαλλξν πλλά
  Many rich people were putting in a lot (Mk 12.41)

4. customary action:

- κατὰ δὲ ἑξρτὴν ἀπέλυεν αὐτξῖς ἒνα δέσμξν
  According to the feast he used to release to them one prisoner (Mk 15.6)

5. beginning of an action that continues:

- καθίσας ἐδίδασκεν τξὺς ὄχλξυς
  He sat down and began to teach the crowds (Lk 5.3)

- παραχρῆμα δὲ ἀναστᾶσα διηκόνει αὐτξῖς
  And immediately she arose and began to minister to them (Lk 4.39)

6. action intended or attempted:

- καὶ ἔδίδουν αὐτῷ ἐσμυρνισμένον ξῖνον
  And they tried to give him wine mixed with myrrh (Mk 15.23)

- καὶ ἐκάλξυν αὐτὸ ἐπὶ τῷ ὀνόματι τξῦ πατρός
  And they were intending to name him after his father (Lk 1.59)

- ὁ δὲ διεκώλυεν αὐτὸν λέγων
  But he tried to prevent him, saying.... (Mt 3.14)

7. expression of wishes:

- ἠθελξν δὲ παρεῖναι πρὸς ὑμᾶς ἄρτι
  I could wish to be with you right now.... (Gal 4.20)

- ἡὐχόμην γὰρ ἀνάθεμα εἶναι αὐτὸς ἐγὼ
  For I could pray that I myself be accursed (Rom 9.3)
C. Aorist (ἀόριστος, i.e. "unlimited") expresses occurrence without noting repetition or progress. It conceives the action as a simple or complete unit or event. This event may be imagined in at least four different ways:

1. simple or direct statement of an action or event:

   • καὶ ἐβαπτίσθη εἰς τὸν Ἰορδάνην
   And he was baptized in the Jordan river (Mk 1.9)

   • καὶ εὐθὺς ἐκάλεσεν αὐτούς
   And immediately he called them... (Mk 1.20)

2. complete action/event viewed from beginning/inception (change of state):

   • δι᾿ ὑμᾶς ἐπτώχευσεν
   For your sake he became poor (2 Cor 8.9)

   • ὁ υἱός μου νεκρὸς ἦν καὶ ἀνέζησεν
   My son was dead, but has come back to life (Lk 15.24)

3. complete action/event viewed from its end or result:

   • ἐγὼ γὰρ ἔμαθα αὐτὰρκῆς εἶναι
   For I have learned to be content... (Phil 4.11)

4. a lengthy action/event considered as a unit or whole:

   • τεσσεράκοντα καὶ ἕν ἔτεσιν ἔσκισμήθη ὁ ναὸς οὗτος
   This temple was built in forty-six years (Jn 2.20)

D. Perfect emphasizes an action as completed/finished, but focuses attention on the state resulting from that action that continues as a present reality:

   • ἡμεῖς οἴδαμεν ὅτι μεταβεβήκαμεν ἐκ τοῦ θανάτου εἰς τὴν ζωῆν
   We know that we have already passed out of death to life (1 Jn 3.14)

   • ὁ δὲ μὴ πιστεύων ἤδη κέκριται
   The one who does not believe is already judged (Jn 3.18)

   • πεπληρώκατε τὴν Ἱερουσαλήμ τῆς διδαχῆς ὑμῶν (Acts 5.28)
   You have filled Jerusalem (and it is full) with your teaching

E. Future expresses action continuing or in progress in future time (see Present tense)

F. Pluperfect expresses state in past time resulting from a completed action (rare; see Perfect tense)

3. Negative = μη

4. No Augment  Augment present only in indicative mood forms

B. Examples:
• ὁ τι ἄν λέγη ύμιν ποιήσατε
  Whatever he says to you, do it! (Jn 2.5)

• τούτο ποιεῖτε εἰς τὴν ἑμὴν ἀνάμνησιν
  This continue to do in my remembrance! (Lk 22.19)

• ἐλέησου ὡς, υἱὸς Δαυὶδ

• μὴ εἰσενέγκῃς ἡμᾶς εἰς πειρασμόν
  Do not lead us into testing! (Mt 6.13)

A. PREDICATE POSITION

Adverbial (predicating) in function

Keys: agrees with a noun or pronoun does not follow an article (but see **)

Translation: Use is divided into Circumstantial and Supplementary (see p. 9)

1. CIRCUMSTANTIAL

Expresses the situation or "circumstances" under which the action of the main verb takes place

Translation: By "circumstantial" clauses introduced by adverbial ideas such as: while, when, after, because, if, although, in order to; or as a coordinating verb connected to the main verb by "and." The particular adverbial idea is chosen and shaped according to the context. The examples below assume such a choice. (see p. 9)

Time: while, as, when, after τούτο σημεῖον ἐποίησεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς ἐλθὼν ἐκ τῆς ᾿Ιουδαίας Jesus did this sign after he came out of Judea (Jn 4.54)

* ἰδόντες τὸν ἀστέρα ἐχάρησαν
   When they saw the star they rejoiced  (Mt 2.10)

βλέπει τὸν Ἰησοῦν ἔρχομενον πρὸς αὐτὸν καὶ λέγει
   He saw Jesus as he was coming toward him and said  (Jn 1.29)

Cause: because, since

πολλοὶ ἐπίστευσαν θεωρῶντες αὐτοῦ τὰ σημεῖα αПодроб;  ἐποίησεν
   Many people believed because they kept seeing his signs that he was doing  (Jn 2.23)

* ἐδέσαντο αὐτὸν πάντα ἐωρακότες ὁσα ἐποίησεν
   They welcomed him since they had seen all the things that he did  (Jn 4.45)

 ὑστερήσαντος τοῦ οἴνου ἡ μῆτηρ τοῦ Ἰησοῦ εἶπεν
   Since the wine had run out the mother of Jesus said... (Jn 2.3) (perhaps also "time": "when the wine ran out..."

Condition: if

 τί ὥθελεν αὐτὸς κραδόντας τὸν κόσμον ὅλον
   What does it profit a person, if the person has gained the whole world  (Lk 9.25)

καὶ ἦν ἤδη θερίσομεν μὴ ἐκλώμενοι
   For in due season we shall reap, if we do not lose heart  (Gal 6.9)

Concession: even though, although

ἔν αὐτῷ τυφλὸς ὅν ἀρτι βλέπω
   One thing I know; although I was blind, now I see  (Jn 9.25)
Even though he had done so many signs ... they continued not believing (Jn 12.37)

If you, even though you are wicked, know how to give good gifts (Mt 7.11)

Purpose: in order to, so as to, to (usually with present or future participle)

* τοῦτο δὲ ἔλεγεν πειράζων αὐτόν
  He said this in order to test him (Jn 6.6)

* ἵδωμεν εἰ ἔρχεται Ἑλείας σώσων αὐτόν
  Let us see whether Elijah will come in order to deliver him (Mt 27.49)

Result: so that, thereby

* πατέρα ἴδιξν ἔλεγεν τὸν θεόν ἴσξν ἑαυτὸν πξιῶν τῷ θεῷ
  He called God his father thereby making himself equal to God (Jn 5.18)

Means/Manner: by, in, by means of

* βαλξῦσα αὕτη τὸ μύρξν ἔλεγεν τὸ ἐνταφιάσαι ἐπξίησεν
  In putting this ointment on my body she did it for my burial (Mt 26.12)

* διαμερίζξνται τὰ ἱμάτια αὐτξῦ βάλλξντες κλῆρξν ἐπ᾿ αὐτά
  They divided his garments by casting a lot for them (Mk 15.24)

* ἠλθξν ἐγὼ ἐν ὕδατι βαπτίζων
  I came baptismg with water (Jn 1.31)

Attendant/Coordinating: Participle translated as coordinated with main verb by "and"

καὶ ἐμαρτύρησεν ᾿Ιωάννης λέγων
  And John testified and said ... (Jn 1.32)

* πορευθέντες ... μαθητεύσατε πάντα τὰ ἔθνη Go and make disciples of all nations (Mt 28.18)

* στραφεὶς δὲ ὁ ᾿Ιησοῦς εἶπεν
  Jesus turned and said ... (Jn 1.38)

2. SUPPLEMENTARY This is a structural (syntactical) use of the Predicate Participle to form Compound Verbs ("periphrastic") or (more rarely in NT) in Indirect Discourse constructions after verbs of perception.

Compound Verb:

* ἦν ὁ ᾿Ιωάννης βαπτίζων
  John was baptizing (Jn 1.28)
For John had not yet been thrown into prison (Jn 3.24)

All the multitude of the people was praying (Lk 1.10)

Indirect Discourse:

Every spirit which confesses that Jesus has come in the flesh (1 Jn 4.2)

NOTES ON SPECIAL EXAMPLES

1. When the participle agrees only with the subject of the verb (understood in the personal ending), the participle is usually considered to be in the Predicate Position. See Examples below and those above marked with *:

   | οὖτω γὰρ ἦν βεβλημένος εἰς φυλακὴν ᾿Ιωάννης |
   | For John had not yet been thrown into prison |

   | πᾶν τὸ πλῆθος τοῦ λαοῦ ἦν προσευχόμενος |
   | All the multitude of the people was praying |

   | συντρίψασα τὴν ἀλάβαστριν κατέχεεν ... |
   | She broke the jar and poured it on his head |

   | καὶ εὑρὼν αὐτὸν εἶπεν ... |
   | And when he found him he said ... |

2. In those rare instances where no definite article is used with the noun and the participle that agrees with it, Attributive and Predicate Position cannot be determined as usual by noting the position of the Participle in relation to the article. In such instances a judgment must be made about the best sense of the Participle in its context; i.e. assume Attributive and Predicate in turn and translate accordingly, choosing the best sense in the context. See Examples below and those above marked with **:

   | μαθητὴς πιστεύων εἰς τὸν κύριον σώζεται |
   | A disciple who believes in the Lord is saved. |

   | Assuming Attributive: |
   | A disciple who believes in the Lord is saved |

   | Assuming Predicate: |
   | since while believing in the Lord is saved |

   | if although, etc. |

   | καὶ ἀπαντήσει ὑμῖν ἄνθρωπος κεράμις ... βαστάζων ... |
   | And a man will meet you who is carrying a jar ... |

   | Attributive: Here the fact that the man "is carrying a jar of water" serves to "identify" him for the disciples and thus indicates that the Participle is "adjectival" in the narrative context. |

   | καὶ ἀπαντήσει ὑμῖν ἄνθρωπος κεράμις ... βαστάζων ... |
   | And a man will meet you who is carrying a jar ... |

3. Genitive Absolute: In the special instance where a Predicate Circumstantial Participle and the noun or pronoun with which it agrees are both in the genitive case, the genitive case serves only to separate (make "absolute") the clause with the participle as subordinate. The Genitive case thus functions analogous to a "," (comma) in English. See Examples above marked with ***.

B. TENSE ASPECT

- Present: continuous or repeated action
- Aorist: simple event; single or punctiliar action
- Perfect: completed action with resulting state

Note: In Indirect Discourse (see 5 below) the "time" of the action is also relative to the main verb or to the time of the context of the sentence.

C. USES OR FUNCTIONS

The Infinitive might be called a VERBAL NOUN

As VERB
1. it may have a subject (one who does its action). The "subject" of an infinitive is always in the accusative case -- often called an accusative of general reference.
2. it may have a direct object or other modifying phrases, such as adverbial prepositional phrases.

[See nos. 1, 2, & 3 below]

As NOUN
it may function as subject or direct object of a verb, as object of a preposition, or as part of a noun clause.

[See nos. 4, 5, & 6 below]

Articular Infinitive
The infinitive in Greek is frequently used with a definite article, especially in its use as object of a preposition, but also in some adverbial clauses. The article, always neuter singular, is in the case appropriate to the particular use. This construction is identified as an articular infinitive.

1. Purpose or Intention to, in order to, for the purpose of, for
   - without an article: (sometimes with ὡς or ὡστε)
     ὁ πέμψας με βαπτίζειν ἐν ὕδατι ...
     The one who sent me to baptize with water ... (Jn 1.33)
   - with an article: (sometimes with εἰς or ἐπὶ)
     καὶ ἠλθόμεν προσκυνήσαι αὐτῷ
     And we have come to worship him (Mt 2.2)
καὶ ἐπορεύοντο πάντες ἀπογράφεσθαι
And all went to be enrolled (Lk 2.3)
καὶ εἰσῆλθον εἰς κώμην ὡς ἐτοιμάσασα αὐτῷ
And they entered a village in order to make ready for him (Lk 9.52)

- with the definite article (Articular Infinitive in Genitive Case)
• αὐτὸς τὸ πρόσωπον ἐστήρισεν τὸ πορεύεσθαι εἰς ᾿Ιερουσαλήμ
He set his face in order to go to Jerusalem (Lk 9.51)
• σκεύος ἐκλογῆς ἔστιν οὗτος τὸ βαστάσαι τὸ ὄνομά μου
This man is a chosen instrument so as to carry my name (Acts 9.15)

- with the preposition, εἰς or πρός (Articular Infinitive with Accusative)
• ἐπεμψα εἰς τὸ γνῶναι τὴν πίστιν ὑμῶν
I sent in order to find out about your faith (1 Thess 3.5)

2. Result
so that, with the result that (rare)

• without an article: (sometimes with ὡς or ὡστε)
ʼΑνανία, διὰ τι ἐπλήρωσεν ὁ σατανᾶς τὴν καρδίαν σου ψεύσασθαι τὸ πνεῦμα ἂγιον; Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart so that you deceived the Holy Spirit? (Acts 5.3)
ἐπισυναχθεισῶν τῶν μυριάδων τοῦ ὄχλου ὡστε καταπατεῖν ἀλλήλους
Such great numbers of the crowd gathered so that they trampled one another (Lk 12.1)

• with the definite article (Articular Infinitive in Genitive Case)
καὶ οὐδεὶς ἐπιπλήσεται σοι τὸ κακῶσαι σε
And no one will attack you so as to do harm to you (Acts 18.10)
• with the preposition, εἰς or πρός (Articular Infinitive with Accusative)
... εἰς τὸ μὴ ᾑγανενεῖσθαι
... so that they did not live (Acts 7.19, see previous example)

3. Complementary
Used to define, limit, explain, give content to nouns, adjectives, verbs. Essentially adverbial in character. Includes uses commonly called "explanatory" or "exegetical."

• ἔγω χρείαν ἔχω ὑπὸ σοῦ βαπτισθῆναι
I have need to be baptized by you (Mt 3.14) [expands "need"]
• οὐχ εἶμι ἴκανος λῦσαι
I am not worthy to untie ... (Mk 1.7) [expands "worthy"]
• δύναται γεννηθῆναι ...
One is able to be born ... (Jn 3.4) [expands "able"]
4. Substantive (Noun) The infinitive functions as a Noun, usually as a Subject, Direct Object, or Object of a Preposition. (For Object of a Preposition see the separate examples below in # 6.)

- as subject (with or without the definite article)

> οὐκ ἔστιν καλὸν λαβεῖν τὸν ἄρτον τῶν τέκνων ...
> To take the bread of the children is not a good thing (Mt 15.26)

> πρέπον ἔστιν ἡμῖν πληρῶσαι πᾶσαν δικαιοσύνην
> To fulfill all righteousness is fitting for us (Mt 3.15)

- as direct object (with or without the definite article)

> καὶ ἤρεστο διδάσκειν αὐτῷς
> And he began to teach them (Mk 8.31)

> οὐ παραιτοῦμαι τὸ ἀπεθανεῖν
> I do not ask for death (literally: to die, dying) (Acts 25.11)

- Noun clause with the Subject in Accusative case and the verb in Infinitive, is usually considered an Indirect Discourse construction. See below under # 5.

5. Indirect Discourse or Command This is the use of an infinitive with its subject in the Accusative Case (accusative of general reference). It is especially common with δεῖ (it is necessary that ...) or after verbs of saying, thinking, asking, hearing, knowing and the like. When the subject of the verb in indirect discourse is the same as the subject or another word in the main clause, it is regularly omitted and understood from the context.

> δεῖ τὸν υἱὸν τῶν ἀνθρώπων παθεῖν many things
> It is necessary that the son of man suffer many things (Lk 9.22)

> oἱ λέγουσιν αὐτῶν ζῆν > who were saying that he was living (Lk 24.23)

> γέγραπται ... κηρυχθῆναι ἐπὶ τῷ ὄνοματι αὐτοῦ μετάνοιαν > it is written that repentance be preached in his name (Lk 24.47)

- with subject understood

> ἐδόκειν πνεῦμα θεωρεῖν
> They thought that they were seeing a ghost (Lk 24.37)

> οίτινες τῷ Παύλῳ ἔλεγον ὃ ἐπιματίαν ἐν Ἰερουσαλήμ
> Who were instructing Paul that he not go to Jerusalem (Acts 21.4)

6. Object of Preposition with Articular Infinitive This construction is usually best translated into English by a subordinate clause reflecting the meaning of the preposition with the particular case of the Articular Infinitive. There may or may not be a Subject Accusative with the Infinitive.

> ἐν τῷ σπείρειν αὐτόν
> As he was sowing ... (Mt 13.4)
After I have been raised... (Mt 26.32)

πρὸ τοῦ σε Φίλιππξν φωνῆσαι
Before Philip called you ... (Jn 1.48)

διὰ τὸ αὐτὸν γινώσκειν πάντας
On account of his knowing all people ... (Jn 2.24)

VERB - SUBJUNCTIVE:

The Subjunctive mood is used to express ideas of contingency ("uncertainty"), i.e. it always refers to matters that are yet to happen or in the future. Its translation depends on recognition of a number of specific grammatical constructions in which it is regularly used.

A. FORMATION

1. KEY SIGN variable vowel lengthened to \( \omega / \eta \)
2. ENDINGS Primary for all forms (since Subjunctive always refers to future)
3. TENSE CODES Normal: \( \sigma \alpha = \text{Aor}; \ \theta \eta / \eta = \text{Aor Pass}; \text{Stem Change for 2nd Aor} \)
4. No Augment
5. Negative \( = \mu \eta \)
6. Tense Aspect
   - Present = action continuing or in progress
   - Aorist = simple or single action/event
7. No Future Subjunctive always "future," so Future Tense form does not exist

Examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Present</th>
<th>Aorist</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Act</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>πιστεύω</td>
<td>πιστεύωσι</td>

<td>πιστεύησιτε</td>

<td>λαμβάνωμεν</td>
<td>λάβωμεν</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pass</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>πιστεύομεθα</td>
<td>πιστευθῶμεν</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B. USES or CONSTRUCTIONS with Subjunctive

1. Hortatory (usually 1st person plural). Used in exhortations or commands in the first person. Translation: "Let us ......"

- ἀγαπητοῖ ἄγαπωμεν ἀλλήλους
  Beloved, let us love one another (1 Jn 4.7)

- διέλθωμεν ἑως Βηθλεέμ καὶ ἱδώμεν τὸ ῥῆμα τουτο
  Let us go to Bethlehem and (let us) see this thing (Lk 2.15)

- ἤγισμεν καὶ ἡμεῖς ἵνα ἀποθάνωμεν μετ' αὐτοῦ
  Let us also go in order to die with him (Jn 11.16)

- μὴ σχίσωμεν αὐτὸν
  Let us not divide it (Jn 19.24)

2. Deliberative Questions Real or rhetorical questions that express "puzzlement" by the speaker over what course of action is a) desirable, b) possible, or c) necessary.
Does not ask a question of fact (like Indicative), but reveals more the questioner's mood or state of mind.

τί ποιῶμεν ἵνα ἐργαζόμεθα τά ἔργα τοῦ θεοῦ;
What shall we do in order to work the works of God? (Jn 6.28)

πόθεν ἀγοράσωμεν ἀρτοὺς ἵνα φάγωσιν οὕτως; (Jn 6.5)
Where in the world shall we buy bread so these people may eat?

tὸν βασιλέα ὑμῶν σταυρώσω;
Shall I crucify your king? (Jn 19.15)

δῶμεν ἢ μὴ δῶμεν;
Shall we pay (it) or not? (Mk 12.14)

3. Strong Future Denial
οὐ μὴ with the Aorist Subjunctive expresses emphatic or strong denial of some future event. (Note: in later Greek οὐ μὴ is also coming to be used with the Future Indicative with the same meaning; cf. Jn 4.14; Mt 26.35)

ο ἐρχόμενος πρὸς ἐμὲ οὐ μὴ πεινάσῃ
The one who comes to me shall by no means hunger (Jn 6.35)

οὐ μὴ ἐκβάλω ἔοω
... I shall never cast out (Jn 6.37)

οὐ μὴ εἰσέλθῃ τὴν βασιλείαν τῶν οὐρανῶν
You shall never enter into the kingdom of heaven (Mt 5.20)

μὴ κρίνετε καὶ οὐ μὴ κριθῆτε
Stop judging and you shall never be judged (Lk 6.37)

4. Prohibition
μὴ with the Aorist Subjunctive is regularly used instead of the Imperative for negative commands ("prohibition") referring to a simple or single action.

μὴ πλανηθῆτε ... μὴ πορευθῆτε ὑπίσω αὐτῶν
Do not be deceived ... do not go after them (Lk 21.8)

μὴ θαυμάσῃς ὅτι εἶπόν σοι
Do not wonder that I said to you ... (Jn 3.7)

καὶ μὴ εἰσενέγκῃς ἡμᾶς εἰς πειρασμόν
And do not lead us into a test (Mt 6.13)

μὴ μεριμνήσῃς εἰς τὴν αὔριαν
Do not worry for tomorrow (Mt 6.34)

5. Conditional Clauses
Subjunctive mood is used in Conditional clauses expressing contingency or uncertainty in reference to future time ("Condition of Contingency or Uncertainty"). See under "Conditions, p. 21, B.2"

Basic Structure:
"ἄν + Subjunctive"
then ..........

Introductory words vary:
κἂν (= καὶ ἄν)
even if

ἐάν (= εἰ ἄν)
if

κἂν (= καὶ ἀν) whenever ὅταν (= ὅτε ἄν) whoever ός ἄν

ἐὰν ἄλλος ἔλθῃ ἐν τῷ ὄνοματί τῇ ἰδίῳ, ἐκεῖνον λήμψεσθε

If another comes in his own name, you will receive him (Jn 5.43)

ἐὰν τις διψᾷ ἐρχέσθω πρὸς με

If anyone thirsts, let that one come to me (Jn 7.37)

ἐὰν μὴ σημεῖα ἴδητε, οὐ μὴ πιστεύσητε

If you do not see signs, you will never believe (Jn 4.48)

κἂν δὲν με σὺν σξὶ ἀπανθανεῖ, οὐ μὴ σε ἀπαρνήσημαι

Even if it is necessary that I die with you, I will never deny you (Mt 26.35)

γνώσκομεν ... ὅταν τὸν θεὸν ἀγαπῶμεν καὶ τὰς ἐντολὰς ποιῶμεν

We know whenever we keep loving God and doing his commands (1 Jn 5.2)

ὁς ἅν τηρῇ αὐτῷ τὸν λόγον, ἐν τῷ ἰδίῳ ἡ ἀγάπη τοῦ θεοῦ

Whoever continues to keep his word, in this one [is] the love of God (1 Jn 2.5)

6. ἴνα Clauses Subordinate clauses introduced by the conjunction ἴνα express several different ideas. The common types are listed below in roughly descending order of frequency. The negative is ἴνα μή, though the ἴνα is sometimes omitted in negative clauses. These clauses are also introduced by ὅπως.

a. Purpose Clauses: "in order to, in order that, that, for, for the purpose of." Answers the question: "Why?"

ἡλθεν ἵνα μαρτυρήσῃ περὶ τοῦ φωτός

He came in order that he might bear witness concerning the light (Jn 1.8)

ὁ θεὸς τὸν υἱὸν ἔδωκεν ἵνα πᾶς ὁ πιστεύων μὴ ἀπόλητι αὐτῷ ἐχεῖ ζωὴν

God gave the son in order that everyone who believes not perish but have life (Jn 3.16) οὐ γὰρ ἀπέστειλεν τὸν υἱὸν ἵνα κρίνῃ τὸν κόσμον, ἀλλ᾿ ἵνα σωθῆ... "For God did not send the son in order to judge the world but that it might be saved... (Jn 3.17)

μὴ κρίνετε ἵνα μὴ κρίθητε

Stop judging in order that you not be judged (Mt 7.1)

b. Substantive Clauses: "that". Noun clauses used to express content in apposition ("This is ..., namely," or the substance, or object normally expected after ideas of wishing, urging, striving, commanding, requesting, or the like, ἴνα may be omitted as in the first example. Answers or expresses the idea: "What" κύριε, θέλεις ἵνα... Lord, do you wish that we call fire to descend from heaven? (Lk 9.54) δεήθητε...ὁπως ἐργάτας ἐκβάλη εἰς τὸν θερισμόν...

Pray ... that he send out laborers for the harvest  (Lk 10.2)
καὶ ἡρῴτα αὐτὸν ἵνα τὸ δαιμόνιον ἐκβάλη
And he asked him that he cast out the demon  (Mk 7.26)
τούτῳ τὸ θέλημα τοῦ θεοῦ ἵνα πᾶς ἐρωτήσῃ ζωήν
This is the will of God, that everyone have life  (Jn 6.40)
αὕτη γὰρ ἐστὶν ἡ ἀγάπη ἵνα πᾶς ἔχῃ ζωήν
This is the will of God, that we continue to keep the commandments  (1 Jn 5.3)
ἐντολὴν καινὴν δίδωμι ἵνα ἀγαπᾶτε ἀλλήλους
I am giving a new commandment that you continue to love one another  (Jn 13.14)

c. Result Clauses: "so that, with the result that, that" Answers the question or idea "with what Consequences?"

τίς ἥμαρτε ἵνα τύφλος γενηθῇ;
Who sinned, so that he was born blind?  (Jn 9.2)
πιστὸς ἔστιν καὶ δίκαιος ἵνα ἀφῇ ἡμῖν καὶ καθαρίσῃ
God is faithful and just so that he forgives us and cleanses...  (1 Jn 1.9)

ηθύτα εἰρέται ηθύσιμοι ... ηθύτα ποιήστε
For these things are opposed to each other so that, whatever you wish, these things you do not do.  (Gal 5.17)

b. Substitute for Infinitive: In a number of instances, especially in later Greek, ἵνα clauses are coming to be used as equivalents or substitutes for an infinitive construction οὐκ εἰμὶ ἄξιος ἵνα λύσω αὐτοῦ τὸν ἱμάντα...

I am not worthy to untie the thong of his sandal  (Jn 1.27)
Cf. Mk 1.7: οὐκ εἰμὶ ἱκανός ... λύσαι τὸν ἱμάντα...

᾿Αβραὰμ ὁ πατὴρ ὑμῶν ἠγαλλιάσατι ἵνα ἴδῃ τὴν ἡμέραν τὴν ἐμὴν
Abraham your father rejoiced to see my day...  (Jn 8.56)

7. Temporal Clauses: Clauses introduced by ἕως or ἕως ή ("until") or their equivalents, when denoting future or habitual action, regularly use a verb in the Subjunctive. Quite commonly the particle ἄν is also present.

οὐ μὴ φάγω αὐτὸ ἕως ὅτι πληρωθῇ ἐν τῇ βασιλείᾳ τοῦ θεοῦ
I will never drink it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God  (Lk 22.16) οὐ μὴ γεύσωται θανάτου ἐως ἄν ἱδοσιν τὴν βασιλείαν...

They will never taste death until they see the kingdom  (Mk 9.1)

CONDITIONAL CLAUSES: In Grammar, a "Condition" refers to a statement in which some action (conclusion) is made dependent on another assumed action (premise). The logical structure of conditions is: "If A is true, then B is true." However, a number of subordinate conjunctions (e.g. whenever, whoever, wherever) can take the place of the "if," and the "then" is often omitted and understood.

A. with PARTICIPLE: The Predicate Circumstantial Participle may be used to express a conditional idea (see under "Circumstantial Participle," p. 11)

> θερίσουμεν, μὴ ἐκλυόμενοι (Gal 6.9)
> We shall reap, if we do not grow weary (under the circumstances of)

B. with FINITE VERBS:

1. Condition of Fact Expresses an actual or real condition in present, past, or, more rarely, future time; the indicative mood is used to show that what the author/speaker states in the premise is assumed to be true or to agree with reality. In certain contexts, such an assumption may be used for emphasis or for ironic effect.

  > If I have told you earthly things, and you do not believe (and both are true), how will you believe.

- εἰ οὔτως ὁ θεὸς ἕγαπησεν ἡμᾶς, ἡμεῖς ὑφείλομεν ἀλλήλους ἁγαπᾶν
  > If God so loved us (and God did), then we ought to love one another (1 Jn 4.11)

- εἰ ἀπεθάνουμεν σὺν Χριστῷ, πιστεύσεμεν ὅτι καὶ συζήσουμεν αὐτῷ
  > If we have died with Christ (and we have), then we continue to believe that we will also live with him (Rom 6.8)

- εἰ τις εὐαγγελίζεται παρ ὃ παρελάβετε, ἀνάθεμα ἔστω
  > If anyone is preaching (and I assume they are) contrary to what you received, let that person be damned. (Gal 1.9)

- εἰ υἱὸς εἶ ὁ βασιλεὺς τῶν ᾿Ιουδαίων, σῶσον σεαυτόν (Lk 23.37)
  > If you are the king of the Jews (and of course you are!), then save yourself

2. Condition of Uncertainty (General Contingency) Use of the Subjunctive Mood in conditional clauses shows that the assumptions of the condition are "up in the air" or left in doubt as far as their fulfillment or reality. Such clauses thus refer only to future or contingent realities. This is the most common type of condition in the NT; since English cannot conveniently distinguish between Indicative and Subjunctive moods, it is the type of almost all conditions in English.
KEY: ἄν + Subjunctive

This type is also called:
a) Present General: "ἄν + Subj., Present Indic"
b) Fut. Less Viviv: "ἄν + Subj., Future Indic"
c) Relative Condit: "ἄν + Subj., Pres or Fut Indic"

Various Introductory Words:

εἰ is usually contracted to ὅταν (= ὅτε ἄν) = whenever ἐάν (= εἰ ἄν) = if ὁς ἄν = whoever κἂν (= καὶ ἐάν) = even if ὅσα ἄν = as many as πῶς ἠδείξω ὑμῖν τὰ ἐποιεία πιστεύσετε;

How, if I tell you heavenly things, will you believe? (Jn 3.12)

ἐὰν μὴ πιστεύσετε, ἀπόθανείσθε
If you do not believe, you will die (Jn 8.24)

ἐὰν μόνον ἀφομισί τοῦ ἰματίου αὐτοῦ, σωθήσομαι

Ὅταν λαλῇ τὸ ψεῦδος, ἐκ τῶν ἰδίων λαλεῖ (Jn 8.44)
Whenever he speaks falsehood, he is speaking from his own resources

3. Condition Contrary to Fact When a Past Tense (thus also Indicative) verb is used in both the premise and the conclusion of a conditional statement, this shows that the assumptions of the author/speaker are Contrary to Reality.

KEY: In Premise: ↓ AND In Conclusion: ↓ (the ἄν is often omitted)

Greek Verb: εἰ + Past Tense Indicative, ἄν + Past Tense Indicative

English Translation:

Imperfect → Refers to Present Time Reality → "If you were..., you would be ...."
Aorist → Refers to Past Time Reality → "If you had been..., you would have..."

Because the verb "to be" in Greek only occurs in the Imperfect (linear) in the past, it must be used for both Present and Past Time references in Contrary to Fact Conditions. The correct time frame must be interpreted from the narrative context (usually from other verb[s] used in the condition).

εἰ ᾔδεις τὴν δωρεὰν τοῦ θεοῦ... σὺ ἀν ἔρωτας καὶ ἔδωκεν ἄν...
If you knew (had known) the gift of God... you would have asked and he would have given... (Jn 4.10)

εἰ τυφλοὶ ἦτε, οὐκ ἦν εἰχε τάματιαν
If you were blind, you would not possess sin  (Jn 9.41)

κύριε, εἰ ἦς οδεῖ, οὐκ ἦν ἀπέθανεν ὁ ἀδελφός μου
Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died  (Jn 11.21)

GENITIVE CASE: The basic function of Genitive case is to show relationship, definition or description. A word in genitive case usually modifies, defines, or limits some other noun by specifying it more precisely. Example: The phrase "a heart of unbelief" is essentially equivalent in meaning to "an unbelieving heart"

The following classification with NT examples exhibits some of the common ways in which the Genitive modifies or defines another word in particular contexts. The examples may be used as models to help interpret the use of Genitive Case in similar contexts.

1. Description or Quality  Can the Genitive modifier be easily converted into an adjective? Do none of the more specific ways of defining listed below seem to apply?

ACCUSATIVE CASE:  The accusative case limits the verb by expressing the end, limit, direction, or extent of motion or action. Its common meaning or function in a clause may be represented graphically by an arrow: VERB ➞ ACCUS. NOUN

Of the following specific functions, those under D and E are less common.

A. Direct Object  Does the accusative word express the object or end of the action? For example, in the phrase ὁ θεὸς ἀπέστειλεν τὸν υἱόν, "God sent the son," "the son" limits or directs the action by specifying its object. (See also special examples of direct object under "Cognate Accusative" and "Double Accusative" in section E below.)

οὗτως γὰρ ἠγάπησεν ὁ θεὸς τὸν κόσμον

For God so loved the world  (Jn 3.16)

εἰ ἀλήθειαν λέγω ...

If I am speaking the truth ...  (Jn 8.46)

They came to the tomb  (Lk 24.1)

ἐξεπορεύετο πρὸς αὐτὸν πᾶσα ἡ Ἰουδαία χώρα

The whole region of Judea went out to him  (Mk 1.5)

C. Subject of Infinitive  Is there an infinitive that needs an accusative subject? The agent of an action expressed by an infinitive is regularly signified by the accusative case. This is especially common in Indirect Discourse and Articular Infinitive constructions (See further examples under "Infinitive;" sometimes called an "Accusative of General Reference")

1. in Indirect Discourse

οὕτως ύψωθήναι δεῖ τὸν υἱὸν τοῦ ἀνθρώπου

Thus it is necessary that the son of man be lifted up  (Jn 3.14)

γέγραπται παθεῖν τὸν χριστὸν καὶ ἀναστῆναι ἐκ νεκρῶν

It is written that the Messiah suffer and arise from the dead  (Lk 24.46)

2. with Articular Infinitive

μετὰ δὲ τὸ παραδοθῆναι τὸν Ἰωάννην ἠλθεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς

And after John was arrested, Jesus came... (Mk 1.14)

καὶ ἐγένετο ἐν τῷ ἀπερείσθαι αὐτὰς περὶ τούτου

And it came to pass while they were perplexed about this ...  (Lk 24.4)

D. Adverbial Uses of Accusative

Does the accusative word qualify or limit the verb in some way? (i.e. taking on much the same character as an Adverb)

1. As Adverb Proper  The accusative neuter singular of an adjective may be used to express adverbial meaning. A number of words are used so frequently in this way that they have become almost exclusively "adverbs": Example: πρῶτον = "first; οὐ μόνον .... ἀλλὰ καὶ ... = "not only..., but also ...

οὐ περὶ τῶν ἡμετέρων δὲ μόνον ἀλλὰ καὶ περὶ ὅλου τοῦ κόσμου

Not only for our (sins) but also for (the sins) of the whole world  (1 Jn 2.2)

τὸ λοιπὸν προσεύχεσθε ἀδελφοὶ περὶ ἡμῶν

Finally (for the remainder), brothers and sisters, continue to pray for us  (2 Thess 3.1)

2. Measure or Distance  Does the accusative word express extension in time or space?

   Time:

καὶ παρ’ αὐτῷ ἔμειναν τὴν ἡρέμαν ἐκείνην

And they remained with him (throughout) that day  (Jn 1.39)

τί ὧδε ἑστήκατε ὡλην τὴν ἡμέραν ἀργήν;

Why are you standing here the whole day long?  (Mt 20.6)

   Space:

ἐληλακότες ὡς σταδίως εἴκοσι ἢ τριάκοντα

When they had rowed about twenty or thirty stades  (Jn 6.19)

ἀπεσπάσθη ἀπὸ αὐτῶν ὡσεὶ λίθοι βολῆν

He was separated from them about (the distance of) a throw of a stone  (Lk 22.41)

3. Manner  Does the accusative word express the manner or way in which something is accomplished? (rare; essentially the same as the dative of manner)

δώρεαν ἐλάβετε, δώρεαν δότε Freely you have received, freely give (in gift fashion)  (Mt 10.8)

ὅν τρόπον ὄρνις ἐπισυνάγει τὰ νοσσία αὐτῆς ὑπὸ τὰς πτέρυγας
In the manner in which a hen gathers her chicks under her wings  (Mt 23.37)

4. Reference or Respect  Does the accusative word limit or specify how a particular word or phrase is to be understood? (rare; essentially the same as the dative of reference)

τί οὖν βαπτίζεις; (neuter accus. sing. of the interrogative τίς, τί;)
Why (with respect to what thing) then are you baptizing?  (Jn 1.25)

ἐξήλθεν ὁ τεθνηκὼς δεδεμένος τοὺς πόδας καὶ τὰς χείρας
The dead man came out bound (with respect to) feet and hands  (Jn 11.44)

E. Special Direct Object Examples

1. Cognate Accusative  Does the accusative word rename (use same root as) the verb? (Often reflects Hebrew idiom, for emphasis)

ἐφοβήθησαν φόβον μέγαν
They feared a great fear  (Lk 2.9)

2. Double Accusative  Is the verb one of a few that can have two direct objects?

θέλομεν ἵνα ὃ ἐὰν αἰτήσωμεν σε ποιήσῃς ἡμῖν
We want you to do whatever thing we ask you  (Mk 10.35)
